

In ARC, players are able to compete against one another in real-time by connecting their personal clients to ARC's servers. The game will be compatible with a wide range of devices, including PC, iOS, tvOS devices. A single player and campaign mode are available, but the most engaging part of the platform is the ability to race people from all over the world.

The play style of ARC follows in the footsteps of the great arcade racers that came before it but with an emphasis on competitive play. Players select a 'racer', outfit it with their personal selection of 'mods' and choose a race style. Players can join specific lobbies to compete against friends, or jump into a pool of random players. The core play style is head to racing, but players can elect to add other elements to events, like weather, that adds to the chaos.
